Getting Along —

Individually and collectively

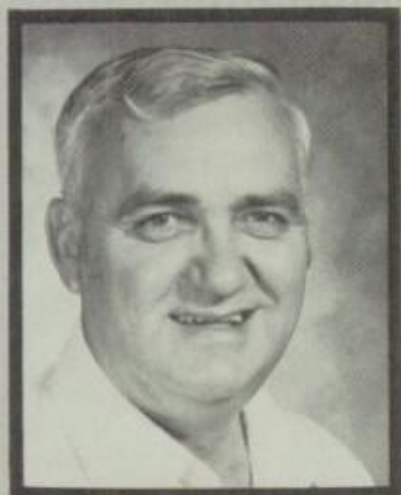

Although lunch hours were shorter this year than ever before, it was a time to relax and socialize. Those that did not bring their lunches could get a variety of goodies out of the vending machines. Individual classes took turns providing lunches as a means of raising money.

P.E. no longer became the hum drum routine of calisthenics and running. The addition of a new soccerfield, and basketball courts, which double as volleyball courts-expanded our choice of sports and activities.

The Big Move

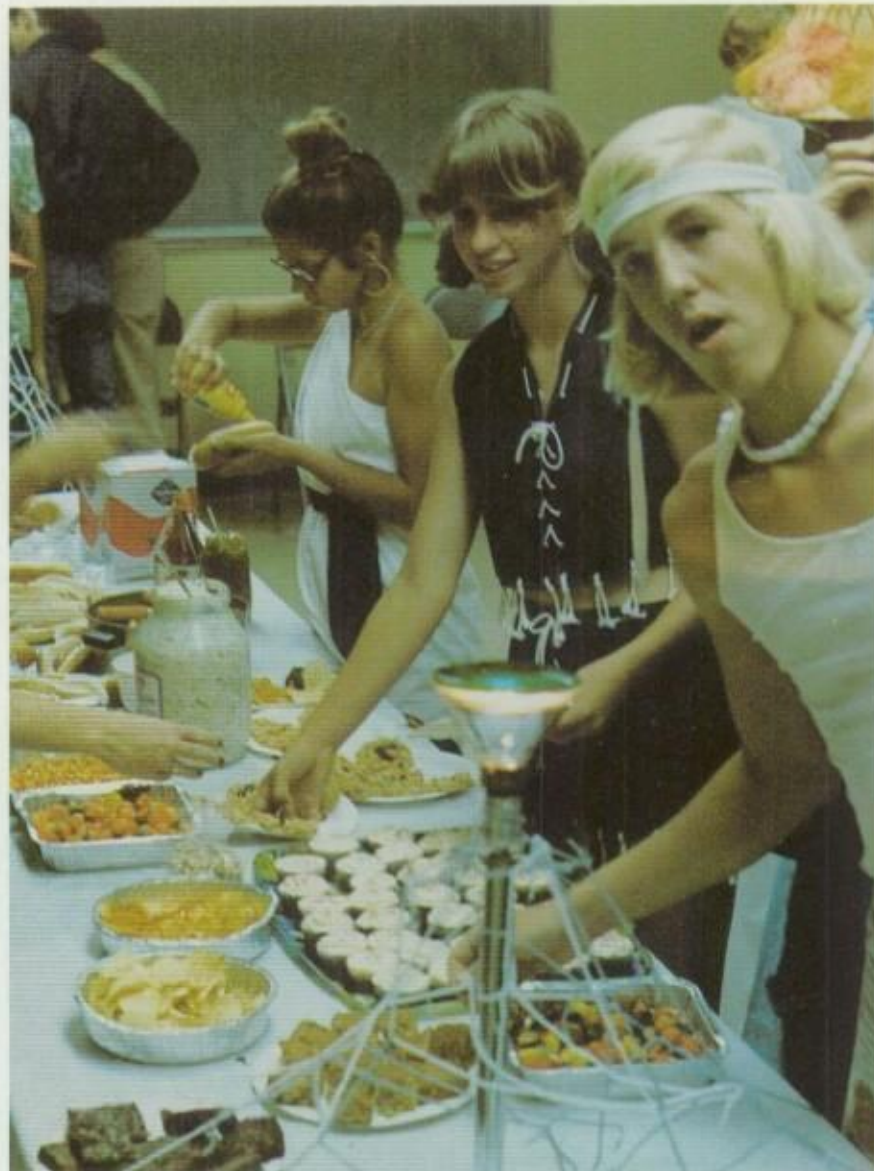

The October, 1977 purchase of a 4,500 volume library from Miami, thrust Lake Worth Christian High School's library program at least ten years into the future.

Besides books, students carried numerous shelving units, maps, teaching aids, audio visuals and assorted items. We now enjoy the new atmosphere the library creates.

Food, Fun -N- Strange Faces

The 2ND annual costume party, sponsored by the Student Council was a great success. Well over half the high school student body showed up in well-prepared costumes.

"The funniest costume was Rich Louter-he makes quite a woman," Junior Diana Rankin said.

"The most hilarious event of the party was when Ross O'Bear slid on the floor to get all the candy from the Pinata," Senior Randy Cross added.

"The decorations were really good; it was alot better than last year. John Clifton was the best. He was dressed as a madame and his padding looked real," Junior Pat Best commented.

Student Council Cares

Besides the numerous services to the students in school, Student Council also considers the needs in the community. The Thanksgiving canned good drive and Christmas toys for orphans were two of the projects which show that Student Council cares.

1. Sophomore Nancy Zylstra jots down the minutes. 2. (L. to R.) BACK ROW: Mr. Ravenhorst, advisor, Mike Hussey, Jaye Dykstra, Ross O'Bear, John Clifton, Sue Vanderlaan. CENTER ROW: Linda VanBladel, Sandy Drown, Michelle Poumakis, Kathy De Vries. FRONT ROW: Ken Best, Nancy Zylstra. 3. President Linda Van Bladel leads the discussion 4. Student Council members check out Christmas gifts collected for orphan children.

Reflections Recalls It All.

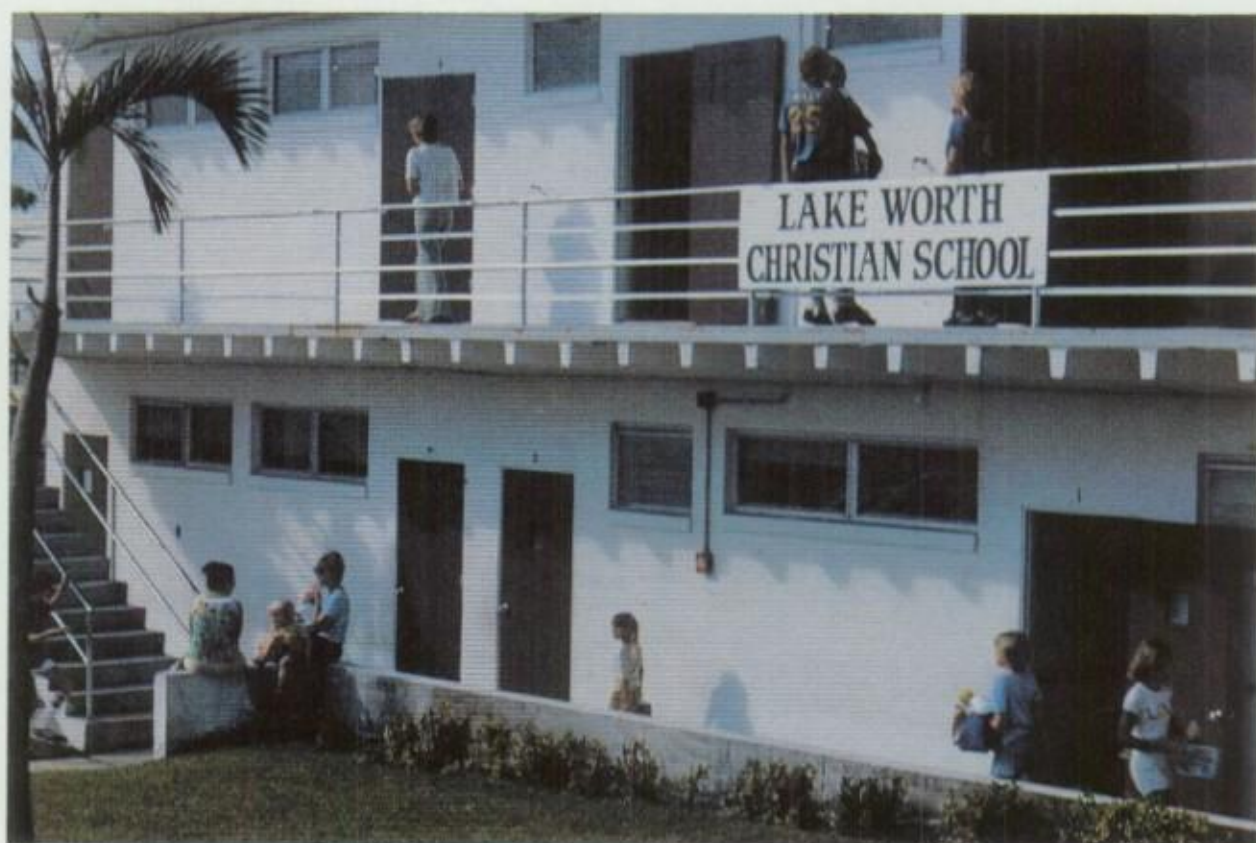

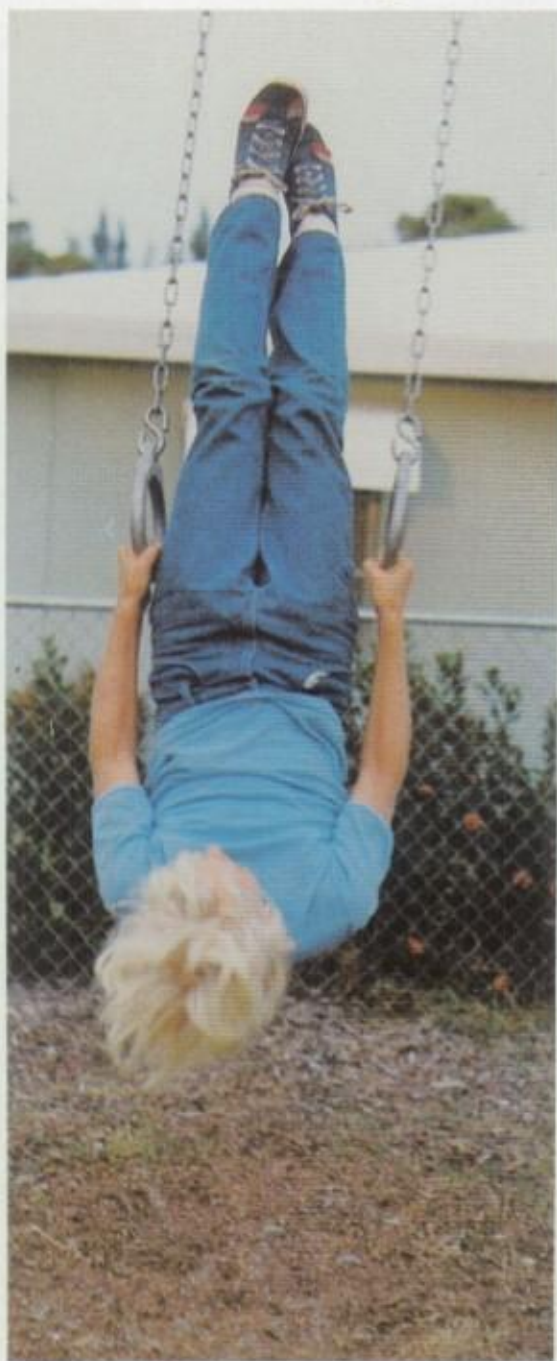

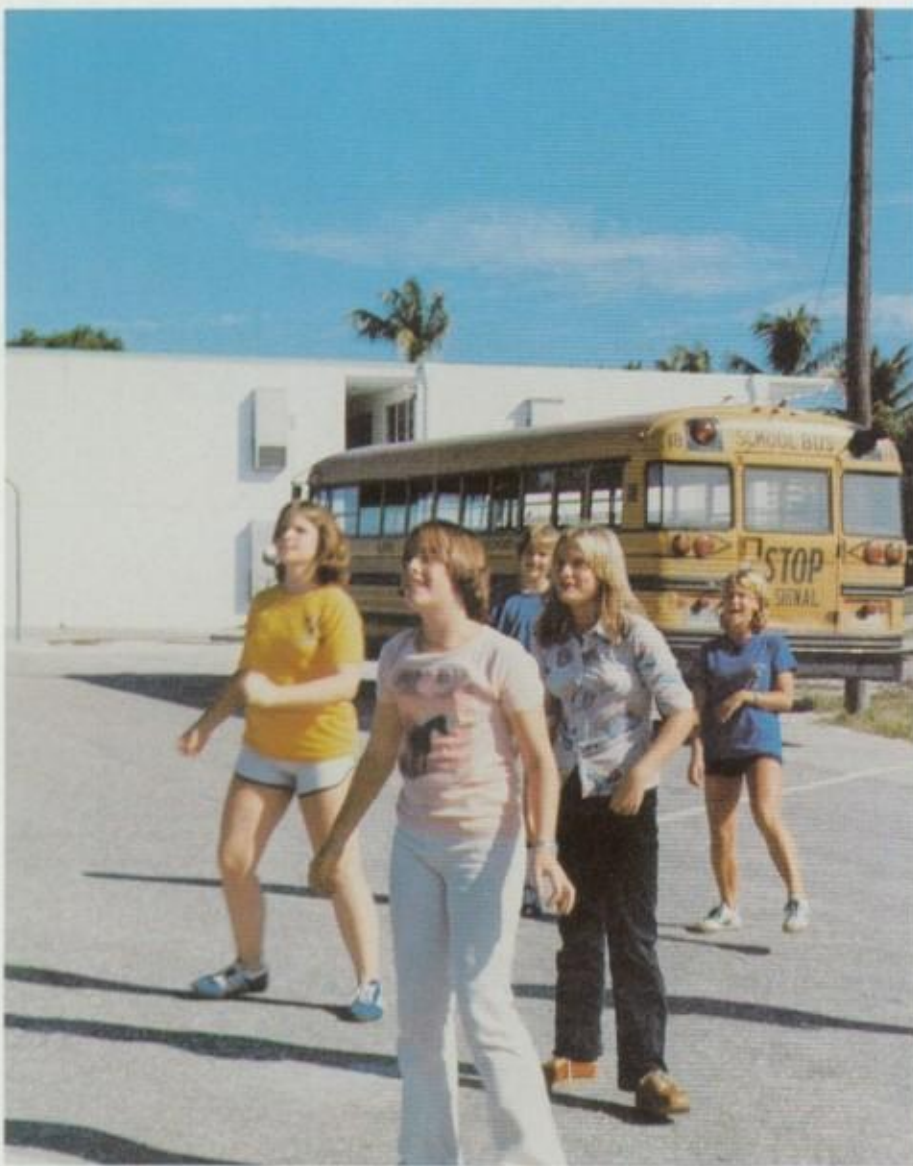

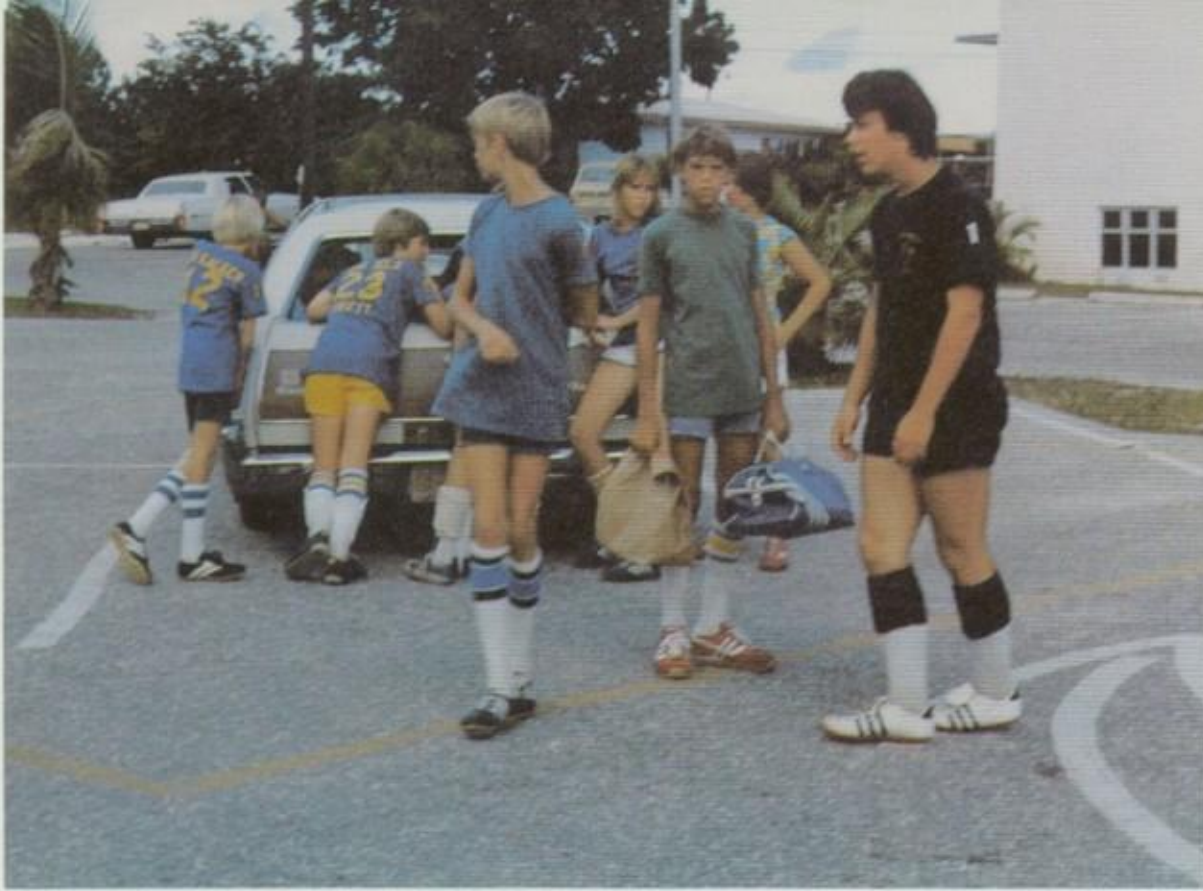

The Yearbook Staff hopes that the students of Lake Worth Christian will be able to look through this book and relive the moments we've tried to capture as the memories come alive on the pages.

The staff also prints The Tattler, the student newspaper. They worked hard on getting stories and news to let you know what's going on in school.

1. A successful paper drive helped reduce the cost. 2. (L. to R.) John Clifton, Michelle Poumakis, Sherrie De Vries, Greg Crumpton, Ed Brill, Jaye Dykstra, Trisha Coates, Carol Hogan, Lynne Rosenberg, Mr. Zylstra, advisor. 3. Very carefully, Lynne Rosenberg adds the final touches to a layout. 4. A late evening work-a-thon proves productive and fun.

SENIOR HAPPENINGS

The end is near . . .

1. The class poses for pictures while waiting to go into the gardens. 2. Everyone is tired and ready to go home. 3. Lunch-time during the fifties. 4. All dressed up for the Junior-Senior Banquet.

The Senior class trip was to Tampa's Busch Gardens. The class members met bright and early May 19th and were on the road, raring to go, by 6:45 A.M. Despite some van trouble, (the girls pushed while Kevin Prince directed) they arrived at the gardens by 11 A.M.

Once inside the attraction, the group split up and went where they pleased (except the Hospitality House). The girls roamed through the shops in the African Village while the boys watched the belly dancers for more than just one show. Then it was on to the Python, which Bob De Vries rode more than six times, or to the Flume ride to get drenched. Brenda Ackerman was almost worse off when Randy Gilde tried to throw her in the water there.

The trip was highlighted by a dining experience at the Columbia, a Spanish restaurant with 11 dining rooms which could accomodate up to 1600 people. An instrumental combo, a singer, a strolling violinist and Flamenco dancers accented the unique experience.

Upon returning to the Tampa Days Inn, the weary, but not too exhausted bunch, finished the day with a massive pillow fight.

1. Some Seniors pose by the entrance sign. 2. Everyone pitches in to help get the bus started again. 3. Class members test the capacity of the Days Inn beds. 4. Seniors assemble to leave the Gardens.

let's live it up while we can!!

Concert Choir and Band meet several times each week preparing for the various musical events held throughout the year. About ten band members were able to attend "Honors Band" on May 11 and 12. The event was sponsored by the South Florida Christian Music Educator's Association.

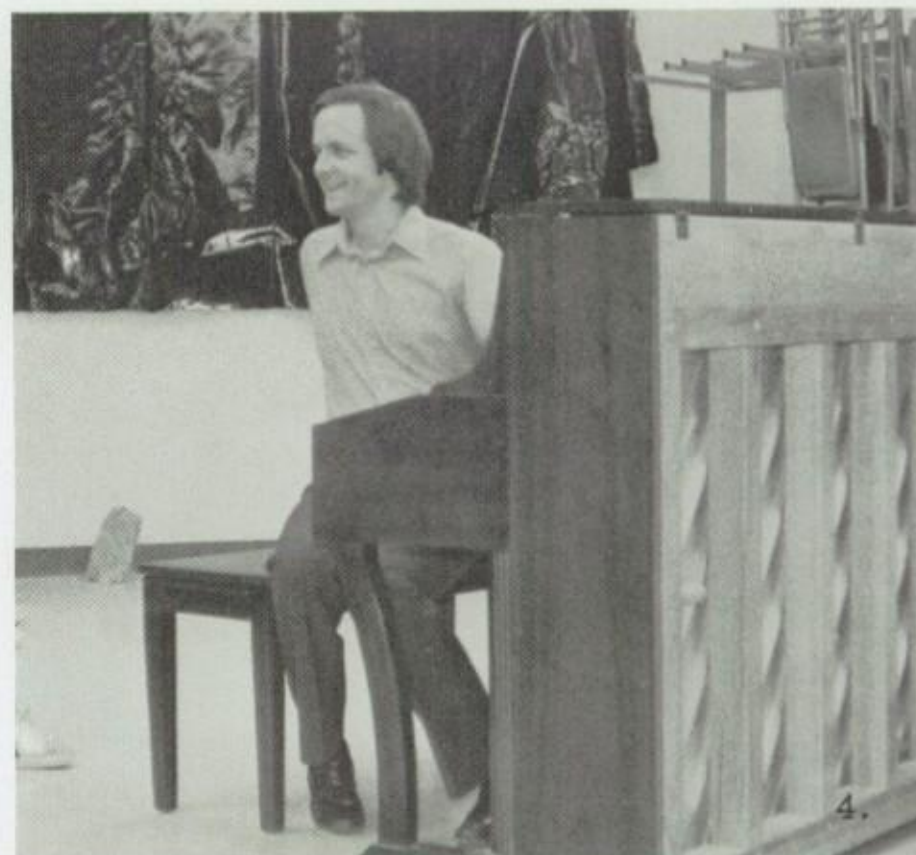

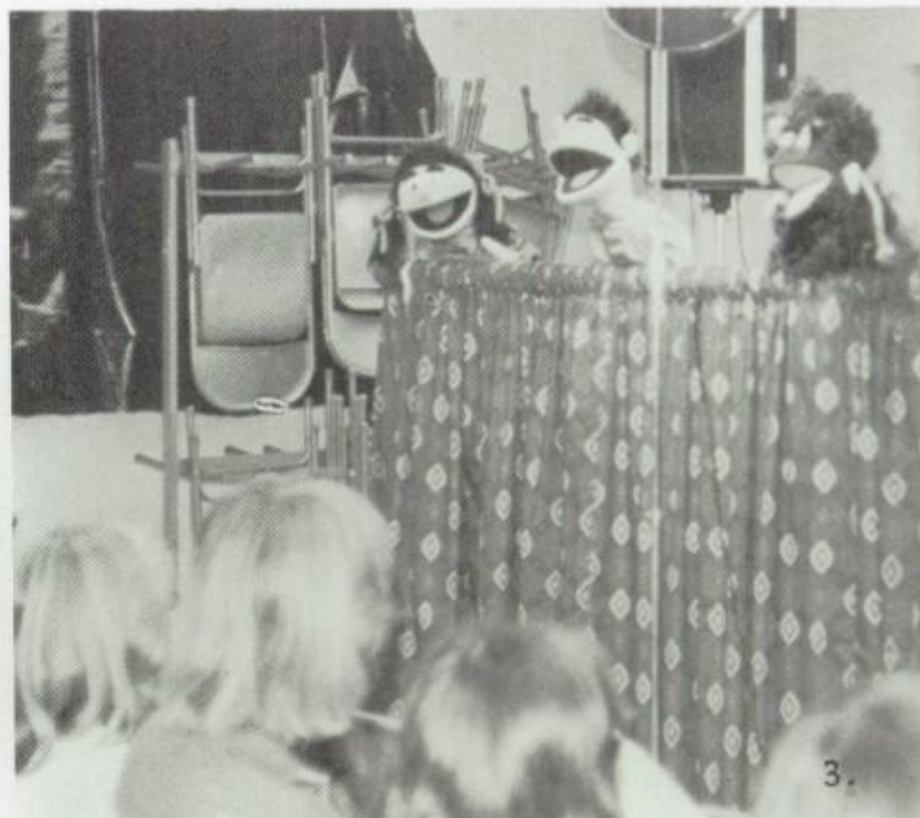

Asaph, a group of selected singers, began it's first year by performing "Festival of Praise" along with the Faculty Singers. The group has sung in numerous churches in the community. It worked especially hard on selections from Ken Medema's "The Gathering."

Art, Drama Encourages Creativity . . .

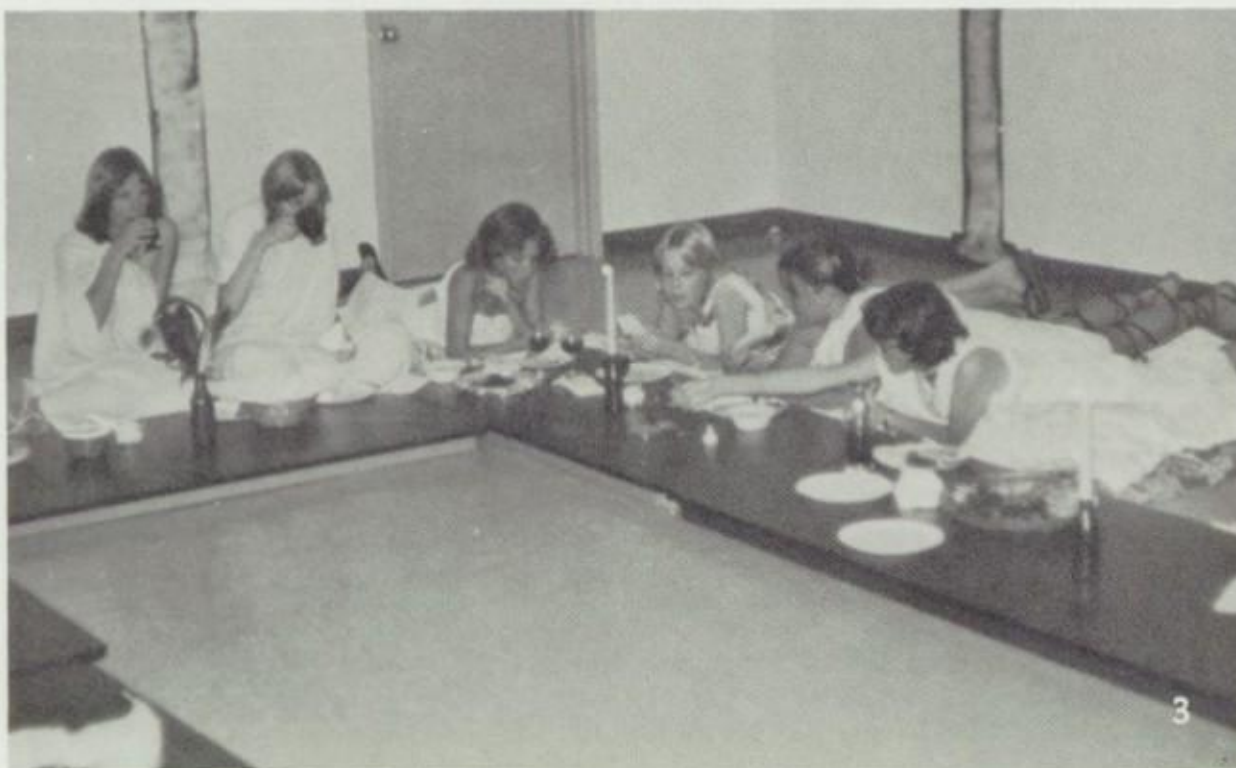

Students found outlets to express themselves in two courses designed to improve individual talents. Drama students wrote and directed their own plays while learning the fundamentals of acting. Water colors and oils challenged members of the art class.

1: Kathy Gilde and Sharon Boitnott memorize their lines. 2: Art students attempt still-life painting. 3: Nanci Louter toils on a masterpiece. 4: Sandy Van Korlaar labors to get just the right color. 5: Randy Cross and Steve Machiela act out roles in the Drama Play, "Enchanted Garden".

Sophomores Explore Roman Culture . . .

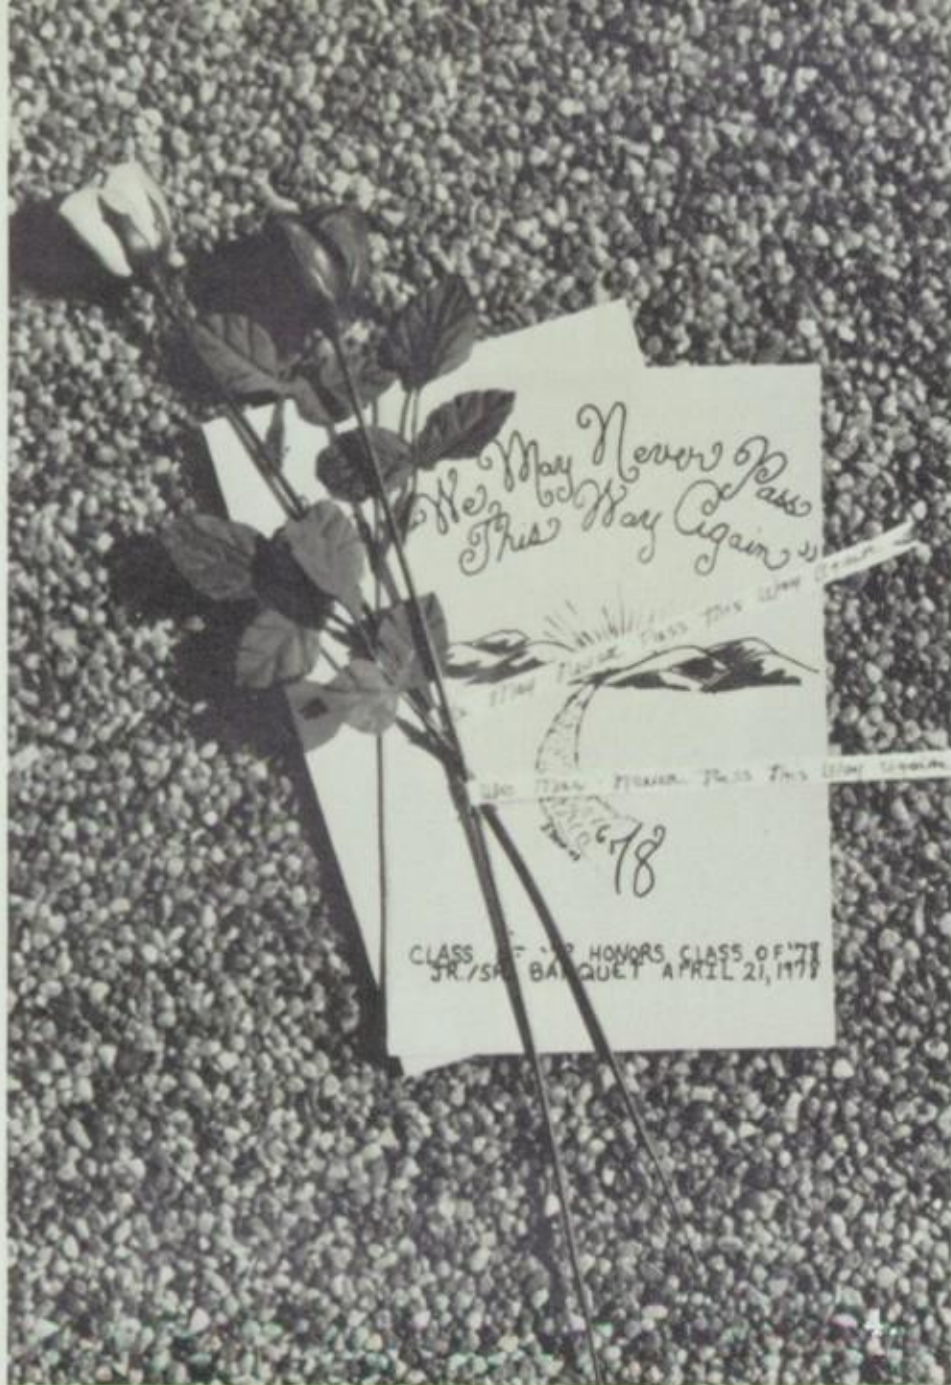

The third annual Roman Banquet allowed Sophomores to duplicate Roman life by wearing almost authentic togas, eating fruit, nuts and chicken in a reclining position, and conducting an election by the popular assembly.

1. Ross O'Bear and Gloria Bruno are the winners as the best dressed Romans.
2. Platters of fruit, vegetables and nuts serve as appetizers.
3. Candlelight and Italian bread help set the mood.
4. Patti Rushing and Steve Vander Wiele play the "pass the lifesavers on the toothpicks" game.
5. Gloria Bruno, Patti Rushing, and Mr. Zylstra discuss the evening's activities.

Junior Senior Banquet

We May Never Pass
This Way Again

"We May Never Pass This Way Again" was the theme song dedicated to the Class of '78 from the Junior Class at the second Annual Junior-Senior Banquet April 21 at The Hilton Inn on Singer Island.

As girls dressed in gowns and guys decked-out in three-piece-suits entered the double doors they saw a garden scene with a cobblestone walkway and a bubbling fountain.

Before dinner pictures were taken under an arch covered with white daisies while kids mingled and drank punch.

Dinner music was provided by George St. Jon, a local guitarist. After desert, a magician, Mr. Gibbs, took over with many card tricks.

1. "I've never seen so many three-piece suits in one room in my whole life," singer George St. Jon claimed.
2. Pat Best assures Miss Tibstra the punch is not spiked.
3. Pam Randolph and her date leave the Hilton as festivities end.
4. The Junior Class supplied imitation roses and programs as a remembrance of the evening.
5. "Watch the mirror closely . . . there are only five dots on this card," Mr. Gibbs, magician, instructed.
6. Sue Vanderlaan and Kathy De Vries try cracking the secret behind the card trick.

AWARDS NIGHT

Students receive letters, certificates.

Awards for participation in extra-curricular activities were presented May 23 at the Awards Night held in the Fellowship Hall. Students received letters and pins, as well as, certificates for honor roll and outstanding service.

1. Miss Tibstra gives a track award to Sandy Drown, Yvonne Boitnott and Rich Louter. 2. Mr. Van Ry appreciates Brenda Ackerman for playing piano for choir. 3. Jr. Varsity members receive certificates from Mr. Wierenga. 4. Certificates and pins are presented to the soccer team.

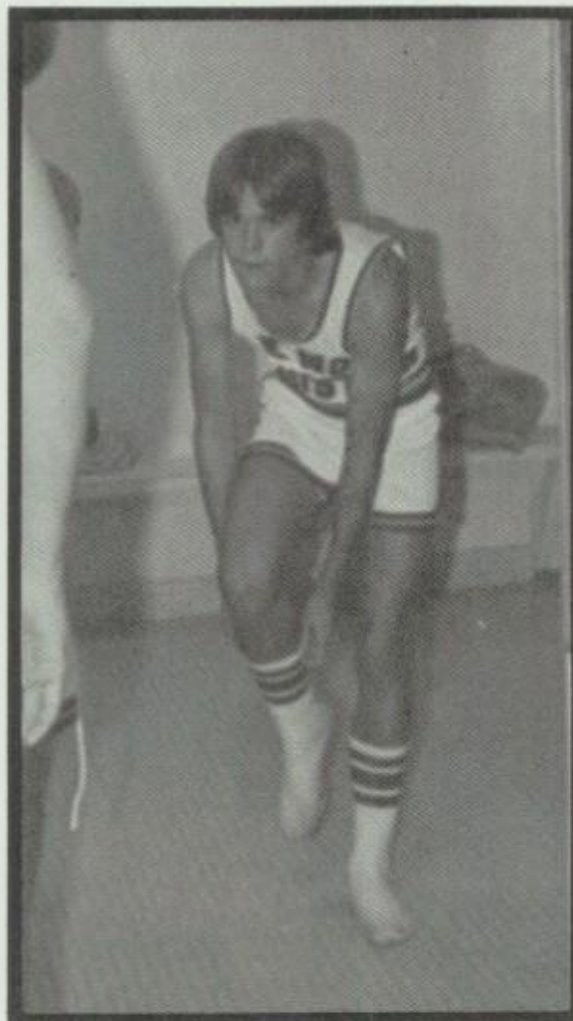

1. Mrs. Zuidema gives cheerleader awards. 2. Mr. Van Ry gives certificates to Honors Band members Lynne Rosenberg, Yvonne Boitnott and John Barendsen.

3. Girl's Basketball members get their awards. 4. Mr. Persenaire presents honors to the softball team. 5. Senior Cindy Bettin gets a service award.

The girls basketball team had a good season, finishing with an 11-3 record. Before entering the districts, the girls were 11-2, and the top-ranked team in the area.

The girls, wearing new uniforms, battled some tough opponents, usually coming away with a victory. The high point of the season came when the girls beat King's Academy for the first time.

"I think we had a good season this year," team member Pat Best said, "but I wish we could have beaten King's Academy for the district title."

Eager and energetic cheerleaders fired the defenders with a will. "The squad improved a great deal, but we still need better crowd participation," coach Kathy Zuidema said.

1. Captain Cindy Bettin leads a familiar cheer. 2. Hand clapping and foot-stomping mark cheers at Jupiter-Christian. 3. The squad screams, "Fire up big team, fire up!"

JUNIOR HIGH SPORTS

Junior High Basketball Test Their Skills

Junior High basketball jumped into action, winning two out of seven games. Most of the players were seventh graders and had never played basketball before.

Most of the practices were spent reviewing the basics of basketball, Coach Steenwyk explained. "They have improved a great deal over the season," he said, adding some team members will become very good players.

(L. to R) Back row: Coach Steenwyk, Brett Van Vels, Jeff Borst, Darrin EngelKing, Robert Krause, Mark Langley, Jeff Dykstra. Front Row: George Kurtz, Greg Hudson, John Clausing, Jeff Van Kalker, Randy Talsma.

Jr. High Soccer Shows Equal Rights

Girls, for the first time, were allowed to play Jr. High Soccer.

"I think the girls should be given an opportunity to learn the sport also," Coach Van Dyken said, adding "I tried to teach them all how to play as a team and pass back and forth."

Team member John Clausen said he didn't mind playing soccer with the girls, "they're really pretty good."

The team played Jupiter Christian three times, but lost them all.

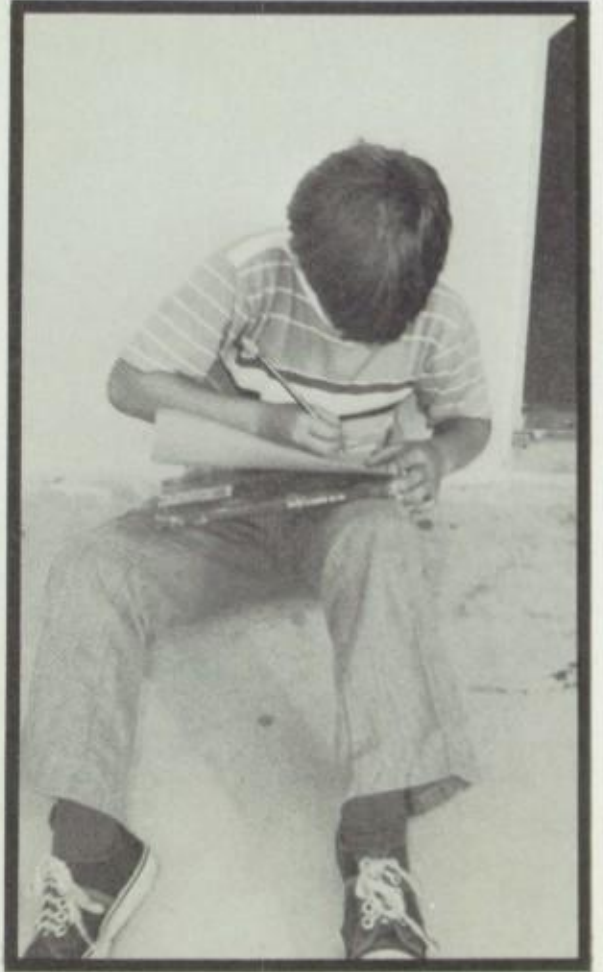

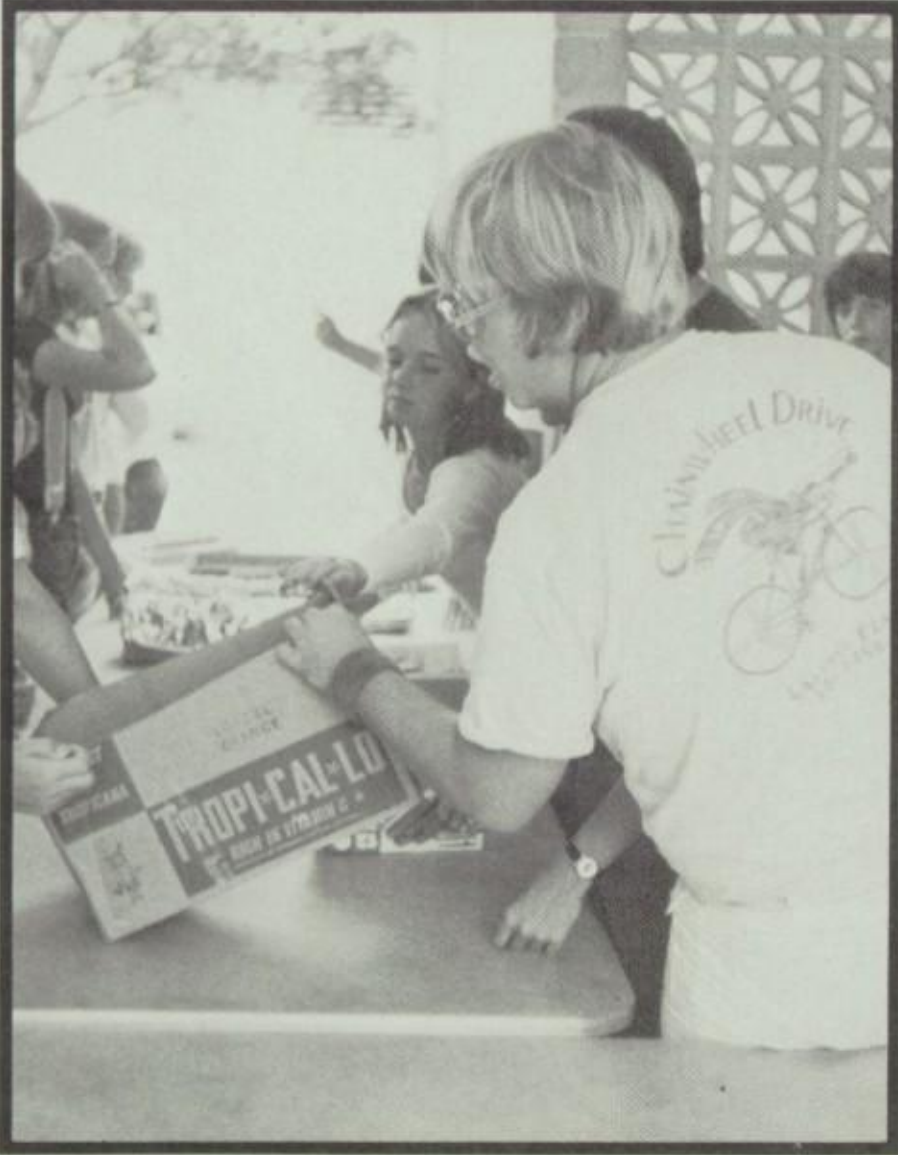

The Jr. High Swim Team met their goal of improving times despite the obstacles of empty pools, water green as grass, and only practicing twice a week.

For the first time, sixth graders were permitted to join the team, along with the Jr. High.

"The turn out for this year's team was all right, but we could have used more boys," Coach Dozeman stated.

A learning experience most favored by the Kindergarteners is the use of field trips. There are many interesting things to see and learn about within the community. The class traveled to the Miami Zoo, the Lake Worth Public Library, and an orange grove. It also attended a puppet show at the Norton Art Gallery in West Palm Beach.

Teach Us To Pray

"Teach Us to Pray," was a special presentation by the elementary grades in the Spring Concert. Two puppets, Bass and Treble, begin a prayer of "Gimmie, Gimmie, Gimmie," but are reminded our prayers should not be selfish. The children then teach the puppets that prayer is a lot more than asking for things.

- 1. and 2. - The choir teaches the proper techniques of prayer by singing "The Lord's Prayer" and "Thank-You for the Sunshine"
- 3. Brian Jacques, third grade, served as the director.
- 4. The puppets, Bass and Treble, learn that prayer isn't just selfish asking.

CHRISTMAS CONCERT

Elementary voices echoed sounds of Christmas

All classes contributed many long hours of practice and memorization for the concert. These efforts were rewarded with warm applause. 1. Seventh Grade displays symbols of Christmas. 2. Lauri Fair places her candle in the advent wreath. 3. The Fourth Grade sings Yule-tide carols. 4. Kindergarten offers rendition of "Away in the Manger."

BEAUTY AND THE FEAST

"Good Evening ladies and gentlemen! I am your host and I'm gonna keep this evening moving right along. Our story is about a wise old man, Mordecai; his beautiful cousin, Esther; a well-meaning king, Ahasuerus; and a sinister-minister of the government, Haman; and an all-knowing, ever-watchful, busy-body bunch called the choir.

We're all gonna be right here with all you lovely people tonight. We're gonna sing. We want to tell you about a beautiful queen who wanted to do right.

This then, is the story of Esther, and at the very least, you need to sit right back, come along with us and listen to 'Beauty and The Feast'."

1. Philip Hubertz, (left) played King Ahasuerus. Brad Wright was Mordecai, the wise uncle of Esther.
2. Paul Galloway portrayed Haman, the evil "Executive on the Move."
3. Cheri Setsma, as Esther, sings "I'm Searching For An Answer."
4. The fourth through eighth grades are the all-knowing choir. John Bowman served as the announcer.

JR. HIGH BAND

JR. HIGH GRADUATION

1. (opposite page) Mrs. Bosman, class advisor, opens the gift presented to her by the class.
2. Class President Ken Schneider, presents Mr. Dozeman with the class gift.
3. Eighth grade girls toast the special occasion.
4. Liz Hubertz leads the remainder of the processional.

1977 - 1978

Remember

People

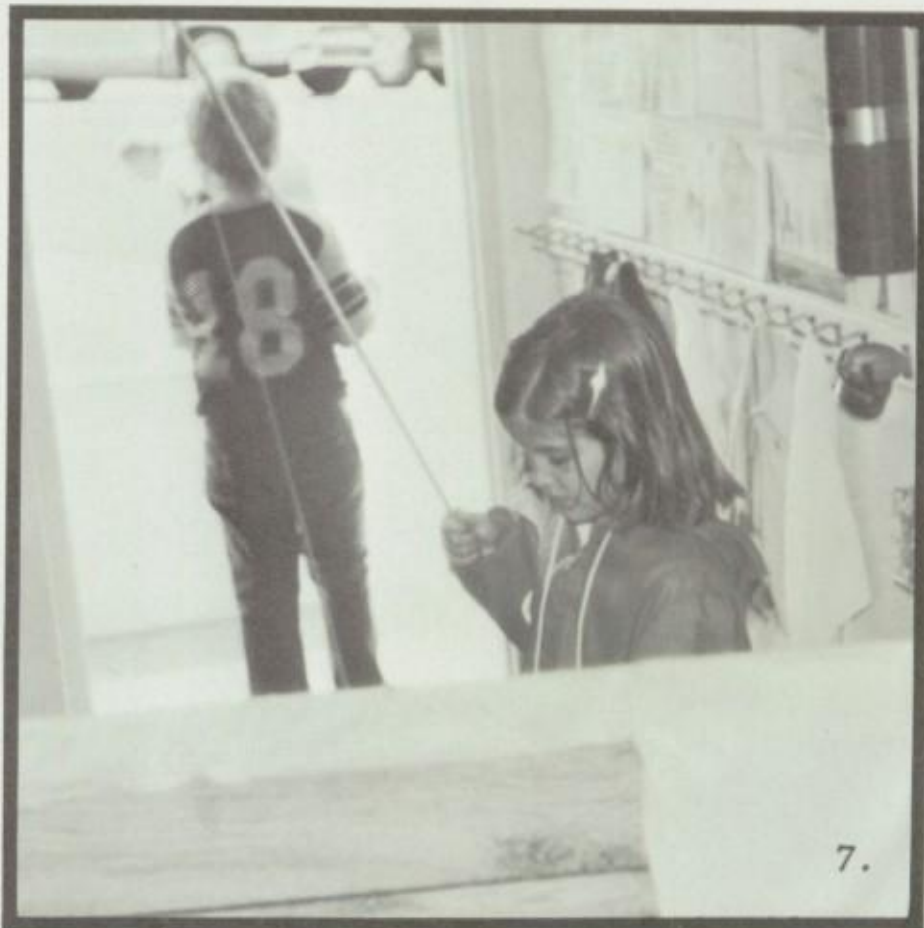

1. Brian Jacques, third grader, whispers his secret to Miss Baker.
2. Kindergarteners and first graders wait patiently for an assembly to begin.
3. Michelle Smith and Rusty Scott hunt for a good seat on the youth room floor.
4. George Kurtz, 8th grade, managed to gain the most "hearts" during the Foundation Day contest.
5. Mike Mills and Bobby Krause, enjoy some goodies from one of the 8th grade's bake sales.

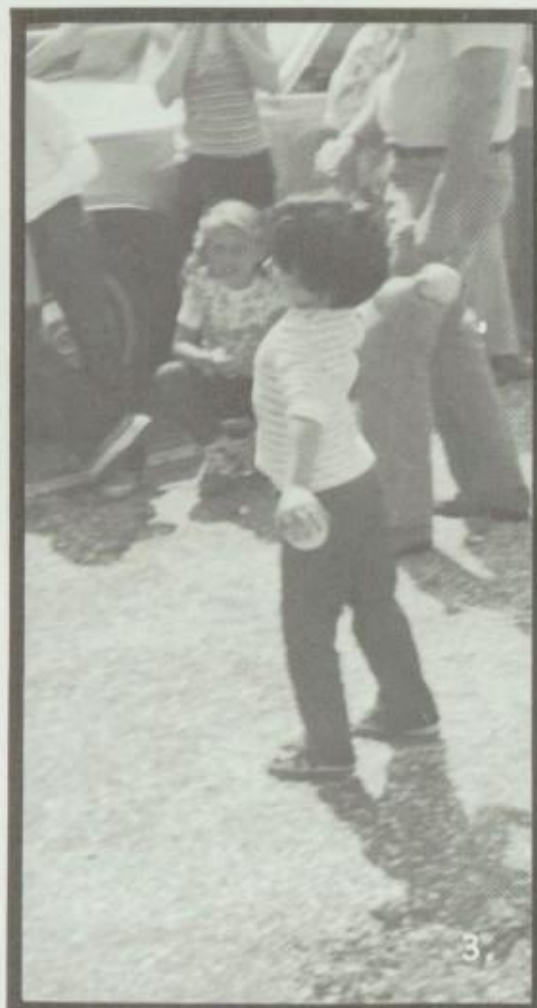

Remember

FUN DAY

1. Tim Harikkala winds up for a pitch. 2. David Rinker aims to "dunk" a teacher. 3. Candy Kirk waits for the next rider. 4. Russ Bowdre finds the barbequed chicken finger licking good. 5. Joni Dykstra has her hair cut. 6. John Bouwman taunts the pitcher and anticipates a dunking. 7. Kathryn Hudson fishes for that special prize.

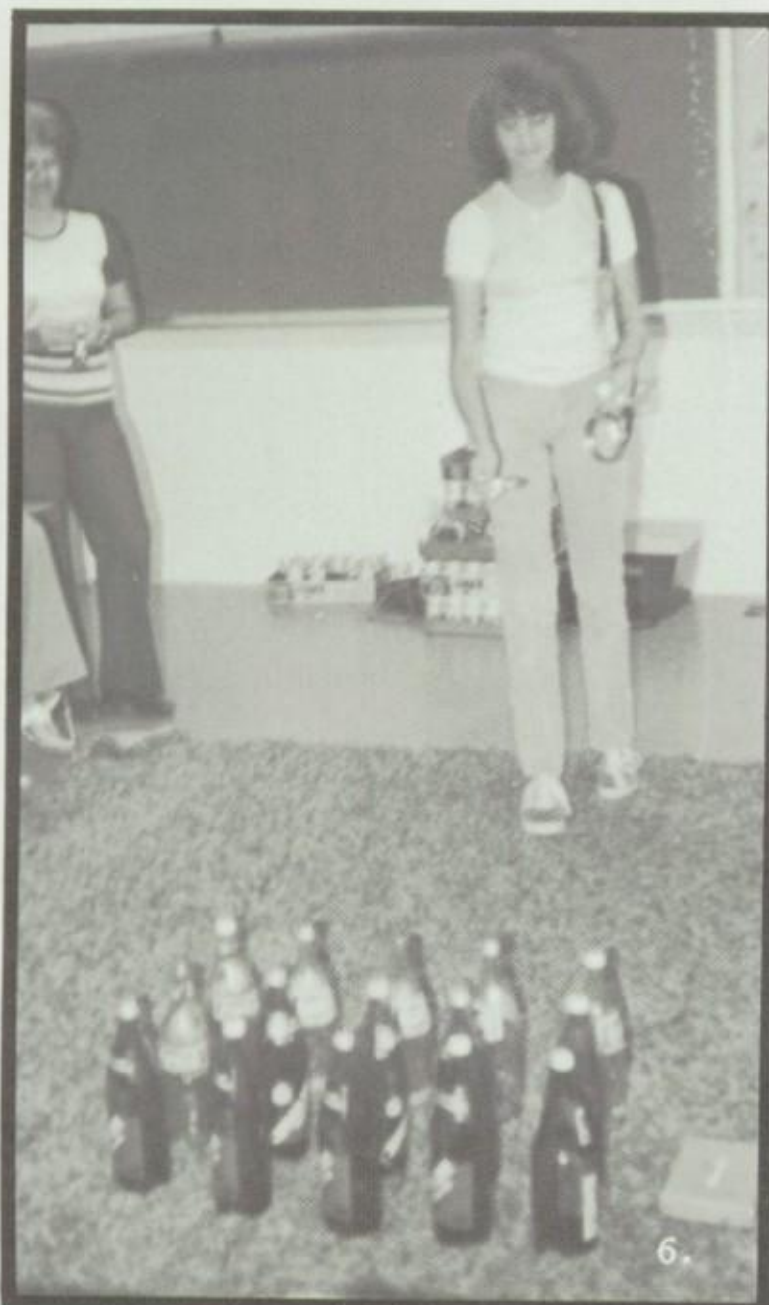

Everyone "Pitched" in to make Fun Day successful.

Baked goods, Pony rides, games and a flea market were only a few things enjoyed by hundreds of school supporters at the annual Fun Day event held March 4.

About $5,000 was added to the School Guild's treasury as a result of the giant success. There was something for everyone - haircuts, the moonwalk, a country store and bazaar, plants, and of course, the chicken Bar-be-que.

1. Eager students wait for a turn to jump around in the Moon Walk. 2. Kindergartener Jennifer Dykstra tries to dunk a teacher. 3. A pre-schooler tests his aim at the dunk-tank. 4. Everyone lined up to pitch coins for the bowls of tropical fish. 6. Sophomore Patti Rushing attempts to place a hoop over a bottle of soda.

Class Rivalry Rallies School Spirit

1. Seniors cheer the pie eaters. 2. Dale Hagedorn devours chocolate creme pie. 3. With intense concentration, Brenda Ackerman aims the egg for the cup. 4. Sophomores twirl in toilet paper.

Bummy looking people, heads full of bows, and faces full of cream pie and egg, marked the Student Council sponsored Spirit Week. Hobo day, dressup day, color day, ponytail day and a variety of hilarious activities, including a pie eating race, egg drop, and the strenuous tug of war, were some of the week's events.

The idea behind Spirit Week was to get the students excited about the big basketball game with King's Academy. The Senior class achieved the most points by winning a number of the events.

1. Sophomores tug victoriously over Freshman. 2. Ross O'Bear proudly displays his platted hair on ponytail day. 3. Faces smothered in whipped cream, the Sophomores keep on eating. 4. The Junior class adds some finishing touches. 5. Muscles aching, Juniors keep pulling.

Twirp Night

2.

3.

4.

1. Students heaped their plates with turkey, ham, roast beef, cheese, and salads.
2. The Generation Singers provided entertainment.
3. Cindy Bettin and Yvonne Boitnott enjoy dinner before the entertainment.
4. Randy Gilde and Marian Koornneef anticipate the evening's events.

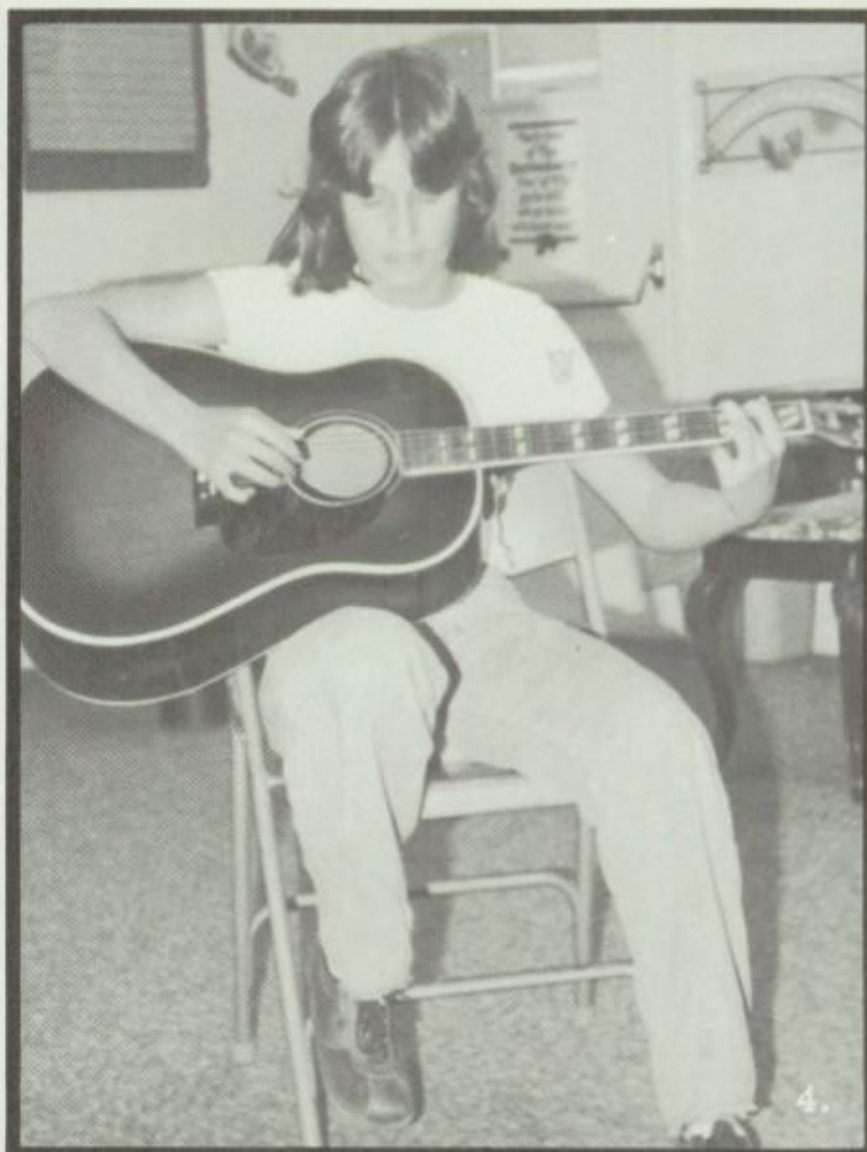

Faculty Clowns Around

1. Mr. Dozeman gets dunked again. 2. Mr. Ravenhorst referees volleyball game. 3. Faculty was on it's toes during basketball game against the varsity. 4. "Who me?" asked Mr. Persenaire. 5. "What do you want?" snapped Mr. Zylstra

Fine Arts Festival

"Our American Folk History"

The Fine Arts Festival held May 12 resulted in numerous blue ribbons for contestants in vocal solo, instrumental solo, forensics, art, poetry and short stories. A special musical program which traced America's history through song was presented by the elementary classes.

1. Kindergarten sings the old-time favorite "Clementine".
2. Fourth Graders Martha Hubertz, left, Pam Teasdale and Kelli Shelton, right, sing for the judges.
3. Blue ribbon winners step forward for their award.
4. Stacey Clark sings her rendition of "Poems, Prayers, Promises."
5. Third Grade describes the Railroad Era through songs like "This Train."
6. Second Grade sings "Goober Peas."
7. Fourth Grade depicts the Cowboy Era with a rendition of "Old Chisholm Trail."

Remember

Bike-A-Thon

1. Beth Fountain (right) and Stacey Clark lead a pack of cyclists. 2. Diane Brill and other exhausted riders look forward to a rest.

About 37 Jr. High and Senior High students rode a painful 35-40 miles during the third annual bike-a-thon sponsored by the Student Council. Over $1,000 was added to the athletic fund as a result of the event.

1. Eager students start from the "A" Street campus. 2. Ross O'Bear coasts in to the finish. 3. Leann Gotro and Sharon Van Korlaar watch others cross the finish line. 4. Everyone is exhausted. 5. A cool drink helps after a hot ride.

DORSEY PROVIDES ASSURANCE

. . . the assurance of personal care and attention. A family in mourning should not be expected to remember the numerous details that make up a funeral service. They must rely upon a trusted and experienced counselor who can take the time to get to know them and what they want. Dorsey provides the assurance of careful planning and coordination by a counselor sensitive to the needs and the dignity of the occasion.
